CALENDAR

Q = Quarter Calendar

S = Semester Calendar

SEMESTER: QUARTER EXCHANGES

Semester means that the academic year is divided into two equal terms or sessions.

Quarter means that the calendar year is divided into four equal sessions with fall, winter, and spring making up an academic year which is the equivalent of two semesters.

Quarter credit hours generally earn one-third less value than semester credit hours. Conversely, semester hours generally earn one-third more value than quarter hours. Member campuses vary in the way that credit conversions are made between these two calendars.

If you are considering exchanging to a campus that has a calendar different from your own, an exchange for the full academic year is recommended. Students who exchange for less than a full academic year from a campus on the semester calendar to one on the quarter calendar, or vice-versa, may not be able to maintain normal progress toward their degree objectives, may encounter difficulty with timely disbursement of financial aid, and may have difficulty in adjusting to the change of calendar.

Discuss this matter with your NSE coordinator and academic advisor during the application process.
