Application Deadlines

Application deadlines vary by department. Some programs have specific deadlines while others may review applications on a continual basis. Applicants are cautioned that a significant amount of time is required by the Graduate School to process an application, and by the graduate program to review applicant materials and make an admission recommendation. There is, therefore, a point each semester beyond which no applications can be accepted, even for those programs with continuing review of applications. Further information on deadlines can be obtained from the Graduate School. It is the applicant's responsibility to obtain the correct application deadline. Applications received after the deadline may be deferred to the following semester.
